Papers turned in late will be assessed a penalty of 5 points per day but will be accepted for 10 days past the due date. You may turn them in early.

You are to find a single article from wired.com related to the computing industry, dated no earlier than July 2008. This could include the internet, an application of computers, a new technology, etc. (Go to wired.com → click on Read Magazine → Select a month) You are to write a summary of the article in 500 - 600 words. THEN write approximately 500 - 600 words giving your opinion of the issue. Total length of the paper is to be between 1000 and 1200 words, no shorter, no longer. Be sure that the summary and your opinion are distinctly separate. This will be about 2 – 3 pages.)

Points will be deducted for writing style (grammar, spelling, etc.) and for content that is not as specified. Be sure to use the spelling and grammar checker in Word as well as the word count feature.

See Student Handbook and Activities Calendar, #10b for definition of plagiarism. Any confirmed case of plagiarism will result in a zero for the assignment and will be reported to the Dean of Students.

The paper is to have the following form:

: YOUR NAME
: TITLE OF ARTICLE
: wired.com
: DATE OF ARTICLE

(1 blank line)

...... Body of Paper ......

No coversheet. The 4 lines of the title information are shown above. Single space. Margins 1/2”. Use Arial font in size 12.